Report reveals Australia's top 100 ranked real estate agents for 2022

5 May 2022

After claiming top spot in REB's New South Wales rankings, Alexander Phillips has taken out the top national ranking in REB's Top 100 Agents ranking.

Alexander Phillips, operating out of Sydney's Eastern Suburbs with PPD Real Estate, has claimed top spot in Real Estate Business' (REB) Top 100 Agents ranking.

The independent ranking, held annually for the past 11 years, set the benchmark for agents operating within the Australian residential real estate market.

The ranking is developed using metrics including the number of properties sold, the total dollar volume of properties sold and the average sale value across a 12-month period.

REB editor Grace Ormsby believes the rankings don't just celebrate the top performing agents, but also construct a picture of the condition of the Australian property market.

"The REB Top 100 Agents ranking represents the pinnacle of Australian real estate, and it's my pleasure to once again reveal this list to not only the industry, but the broader Australian community," Ms Ormsby said.

"The agents within this list have harnessed their own profiles, technology, and innovative business techniques to deliver such stellar sales performance over a 12-month period.

"As well as uncovering Australia's top agents, this year's ranking paints a picture of the remarkable and 'unprecedented' property market conditions seen across the country.

"On behalf of REB and Momentum Media, I'd like to congratulate every single Top 100 Agent named!"

The data collected for the REB Top 100 Agents 2022 was verified by a senior member of the agency or network.
