New report reveals the Top 50 Women in Australian Real Estate for 2022.

10 May 2022

Off the back of claiming second place in REB's Top 50 Agents Victoria for 2022, Helen Yan has gone one better, revealed as REB's top ranked woman in Australian real estate for 2022.

From Ray White in Balwyn, Victoria, Helen Yan has claimed the number one spot in Real Estate Business' (REB) Top 50 Women in Real Estate ranking for 2022.

The independent ranking and associated report is now in its seventh year and continually sets the benchmark for female agents operating in the Australian residential real estate sector.

The ranking is developed using metrics including the number of properties sold, the total dollar volume of properties sold and the average sale value across a 12-month period.

Speaking on the ranking and its importance, REB editor Grace Ormsby said:

"Each year, the Top 50 Women in Real Estate ranking aims to recognise those women who are operating at the very top of the Australian real estate game.

"We recognise the unique challenges that female agents face, and hope this ranking goes some way in highlighting their achievements to the broader profession.

"On behalf of the entire team here at REB, I'd like to extend my sincerest congratulations to all of the women named in this year's list.

The data collected for the REB Top 100 Agents 2022 was verified by a senior member of the agency or network.
